

A warm and inviting living room scene. In the foreground, a light-colored wicker chair is draped with a brown, textured blanket. Behind it, a sofa is adorned with several cushions in shades of beige, cream, and light blue. To the left, a large green plant with long, thin leaves reaches towards the center. The background features a white wall with vertical wooden slats, decorated with several circular woven wall hangings and a large, fluffy, dried plant arrangement. A wooden shelf holds a few decorative items, including a small glass candle holder. The overall atmosphere is rustic and comfortable.
